Have you ever walked on stilts?

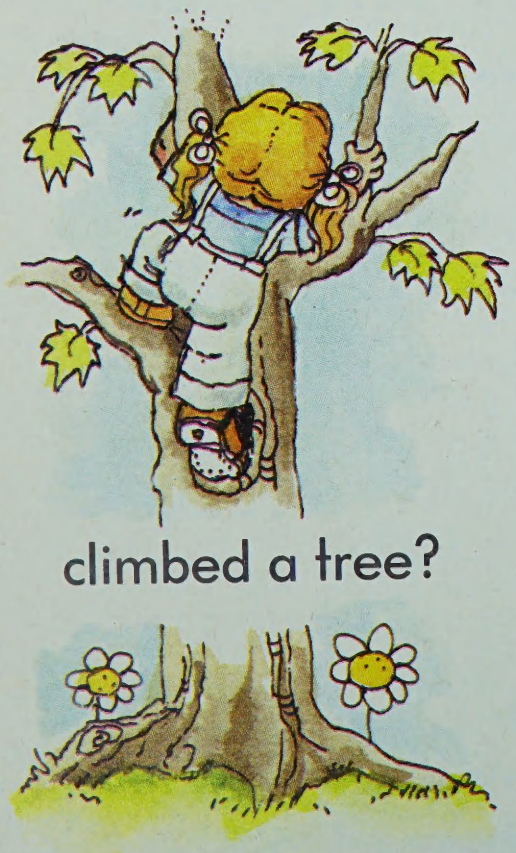
stood on your head?



climbed a tree?

jumped on a trampoline?

Have you ever

blown bubbles?

walked on a fence?

rolled down a hill?

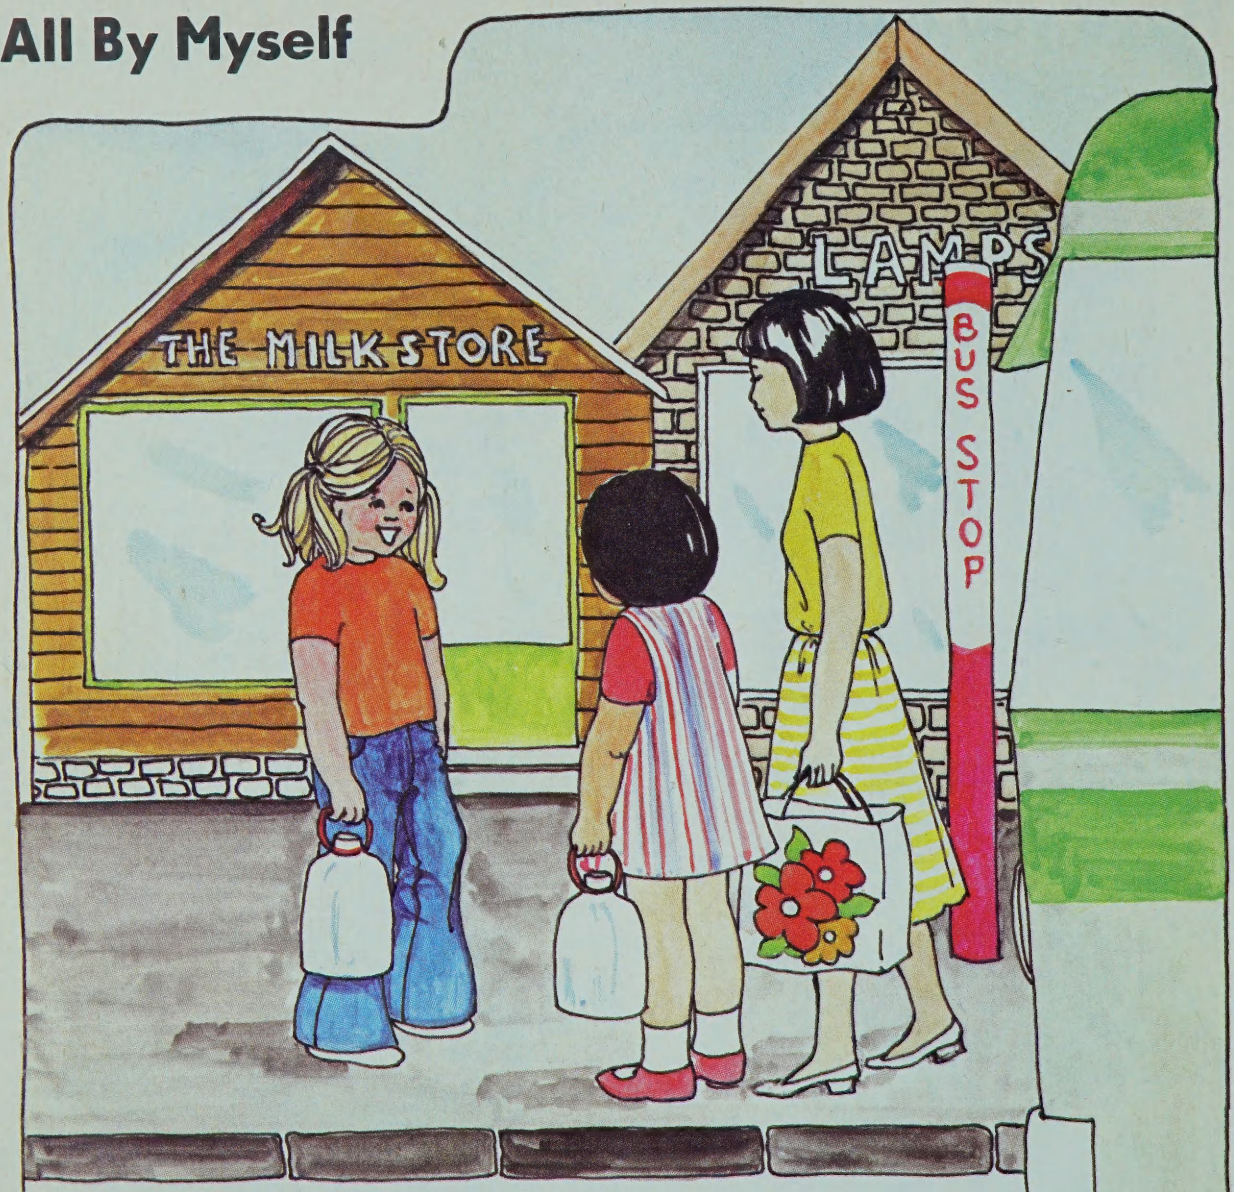
All By Myself

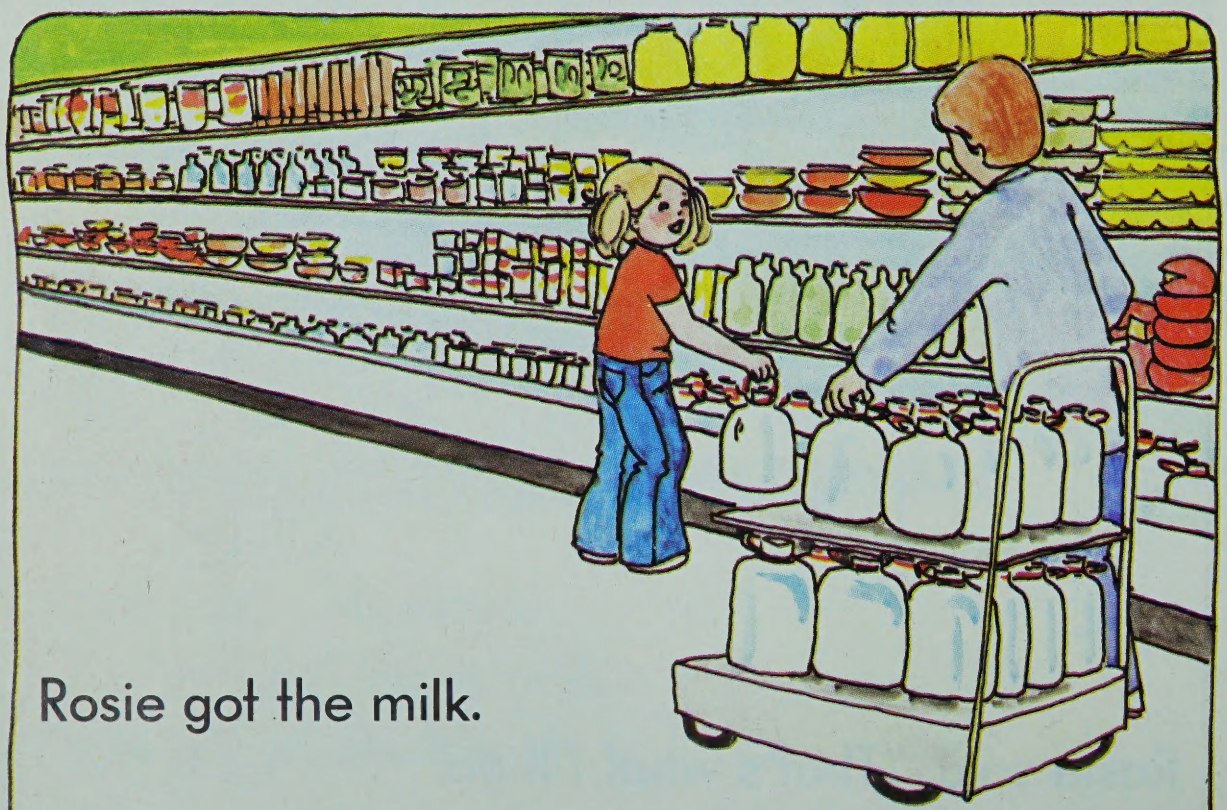


Rosie said, "Hi, Jane.
I have to get some milk.
Grandpa wants it."

Jane said, "We got milk at the supermarket."

Rosie said, "That's what I'll do.
I'll get the milk at the supermarket.
I'll go on the bus all by myself."

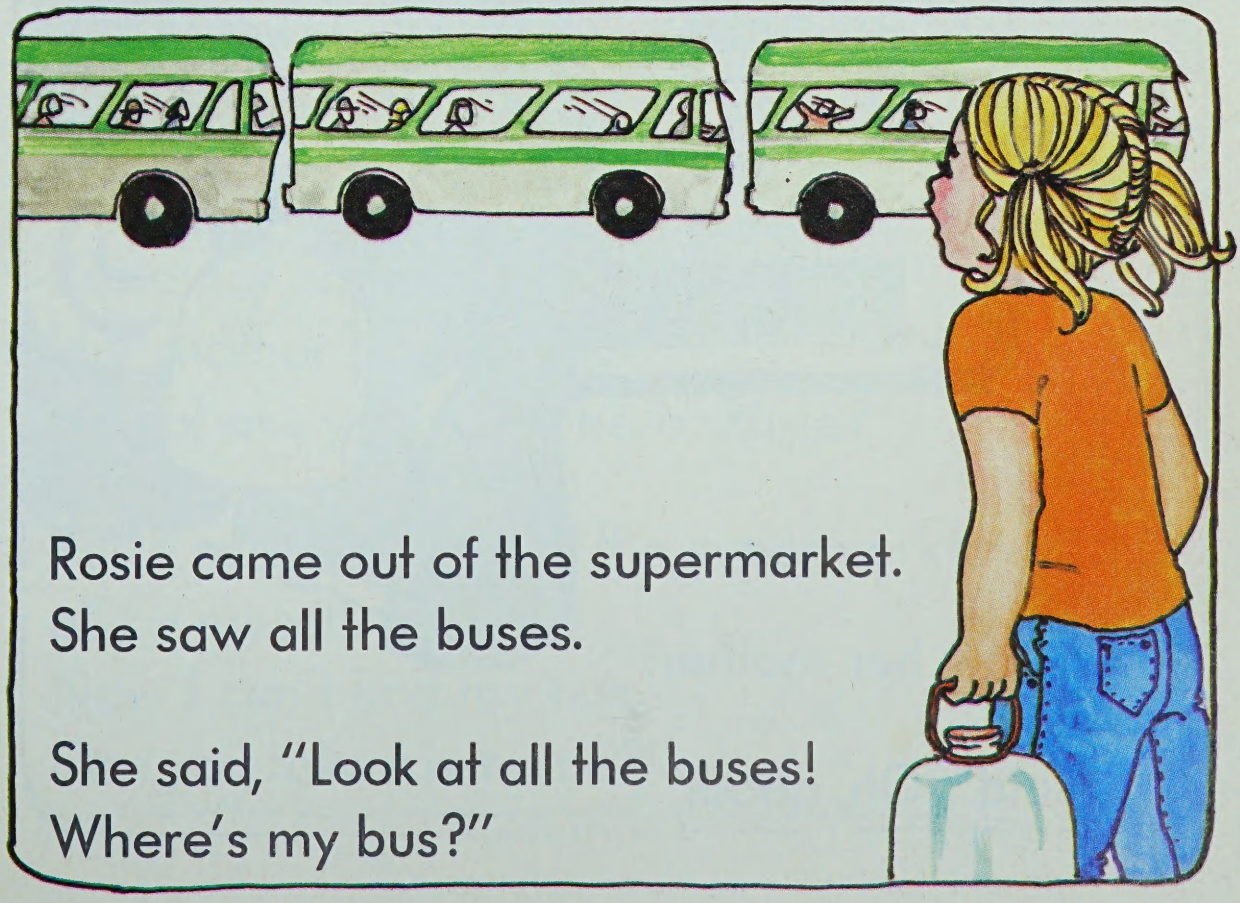
The bus stopped at the supermarket.
Rosie got off.



Rosie got the milk.

She said, "I came on the bus
all by myself."

Rosie said, "I came on the bus
all by myself.
I can go home all by myself."

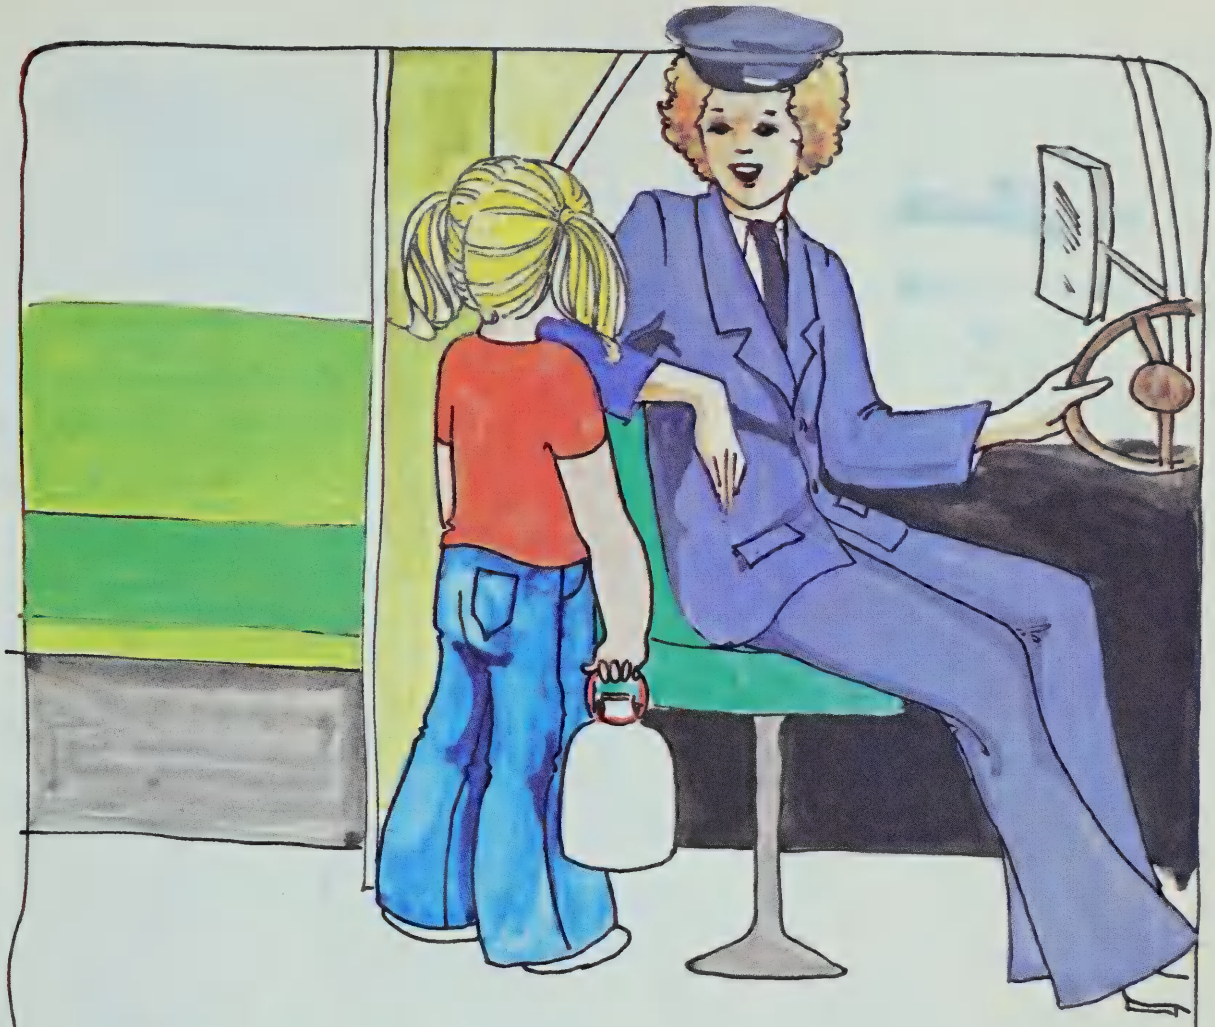


Rosie came out of the supermarket.
She saw all the buses.

She said, "Look at all the buses!
Where's my bus?"

Rosie saw her mother.

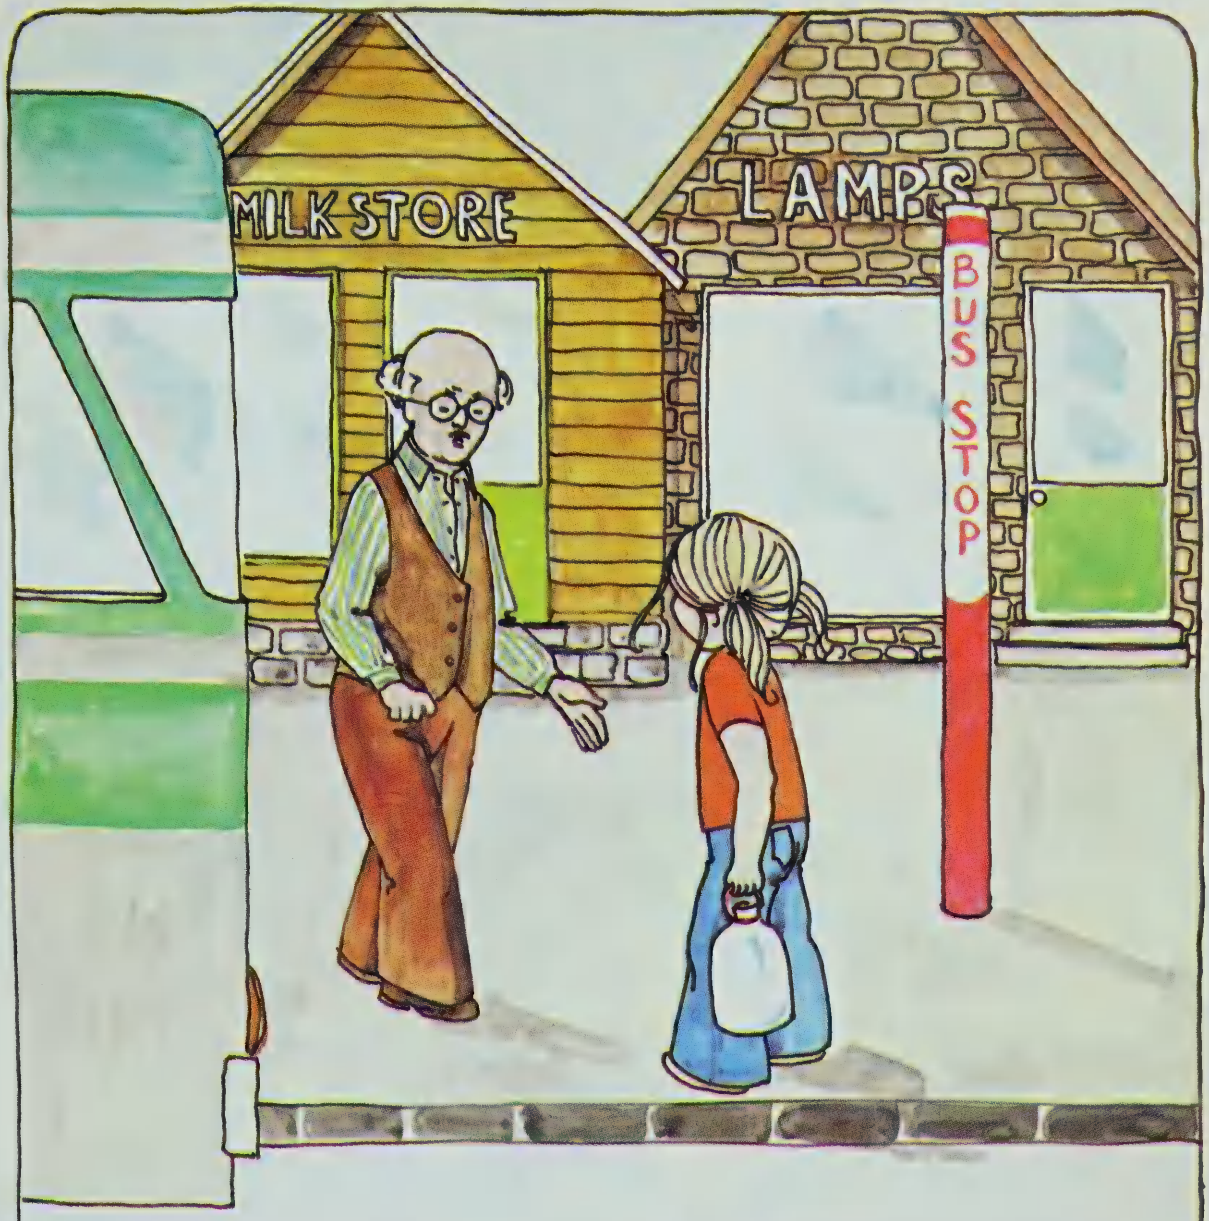
She said, "Oh, good!"



Rosie got on the bus.
Her mother said,
"What are you doing here, Rosie?"

Rosie said, "I came to the supermarket
all by myself.
Now I can't find my bus.
Can you take me home?"

Her mother said, "Rosie, I can't take you home. Take that bus. It will take you home."



Grandpa said, "Where were you, Rosie?"

Rosie said, "I went to the supermarket all by myself!"

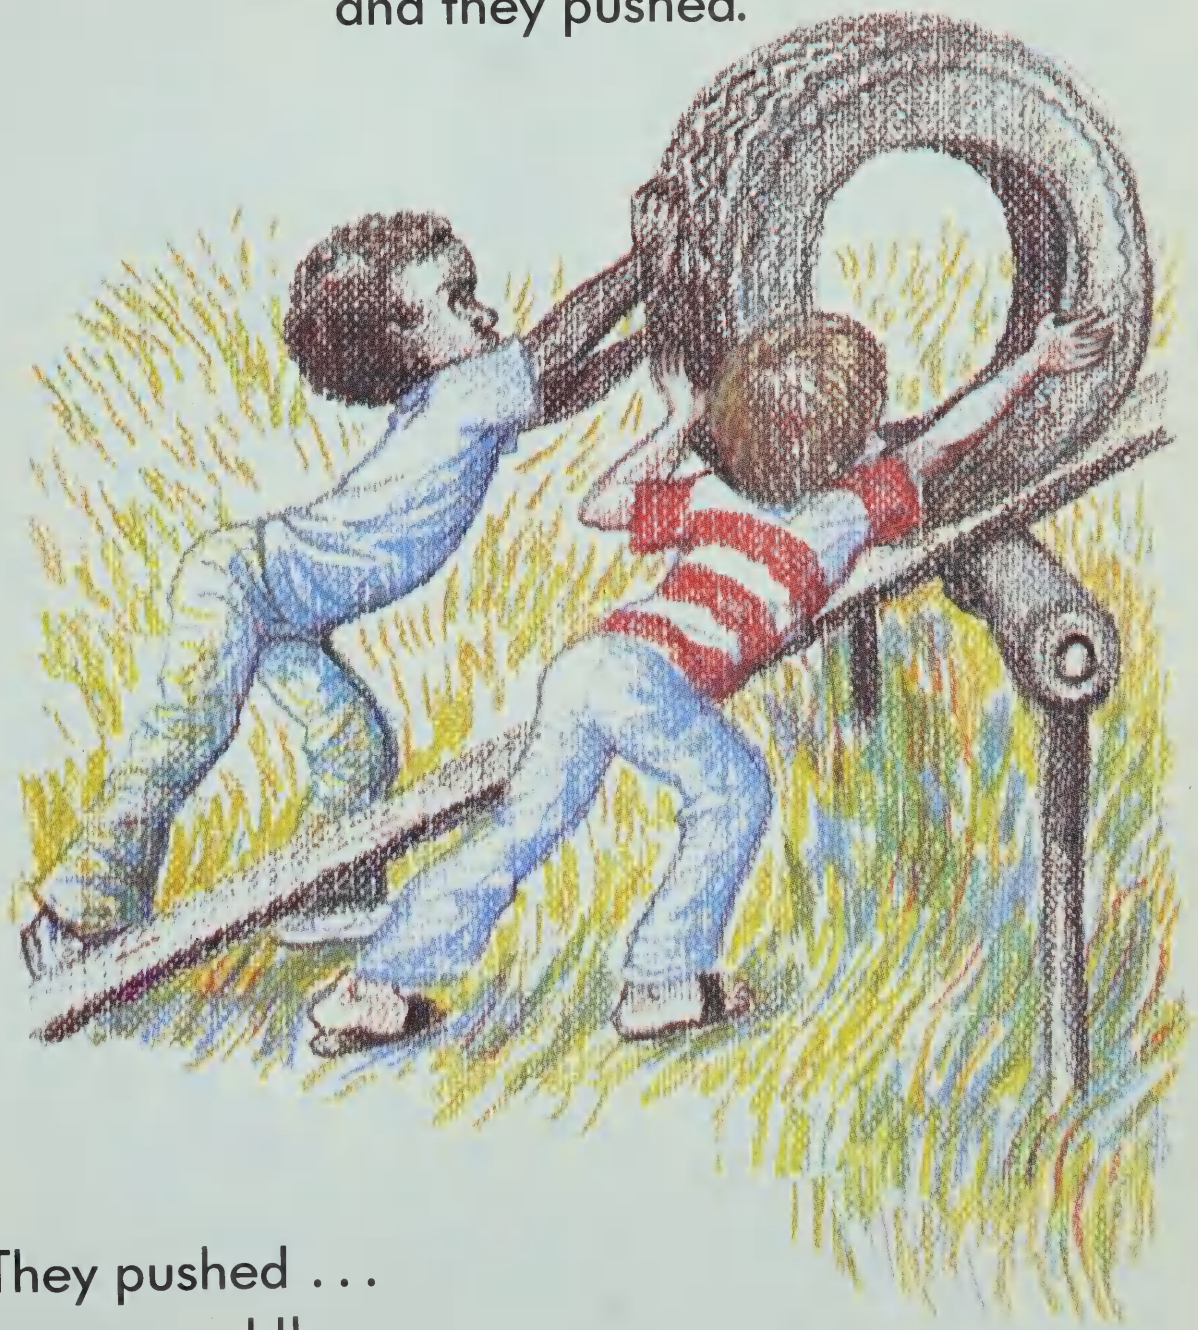
The Tire on the Teeter-Totter

Shawn said, "What are you doing with that tire?"

Mark said, "I want to push it up the teeter-totter."

Shawn said, "Do you want me to help?"
Mark said, "O.K."

Shawn and Mark pushed . . .
and they pushed . . .
and they pushed.



They pushed . . .
and they pushed!

Then — the teeter-totter went down.

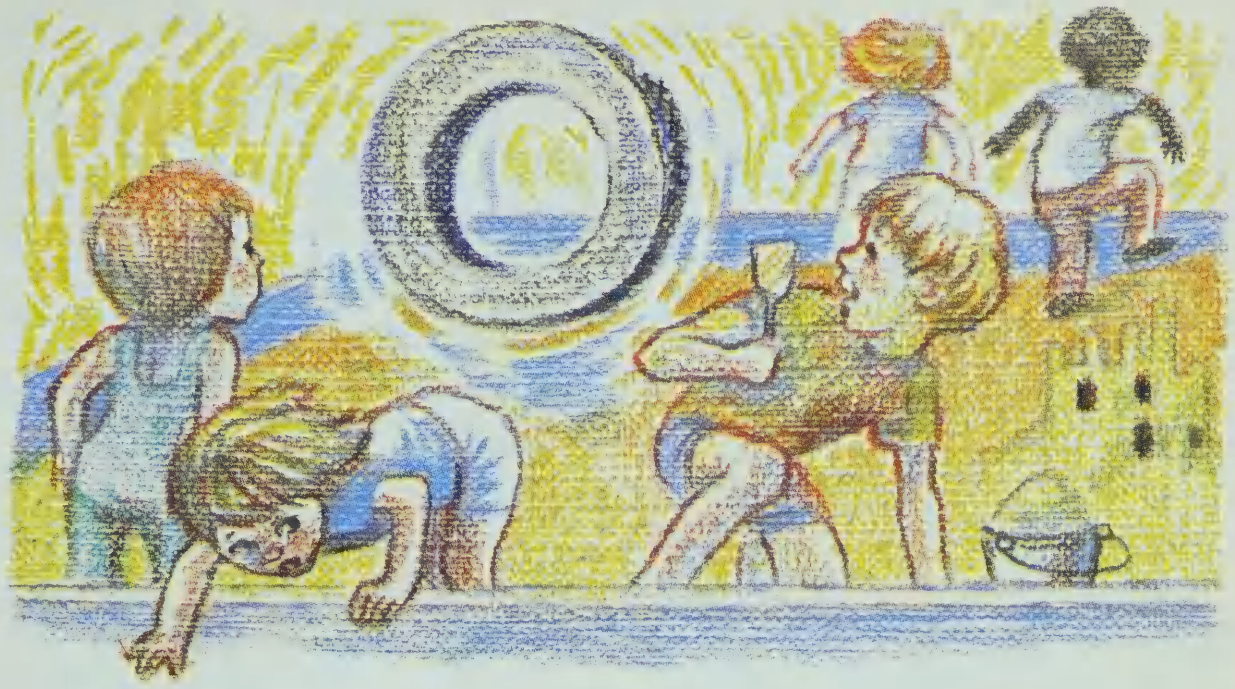
Away went the tire.
Bumpety, bumpety, bump!



Through the sandbox!

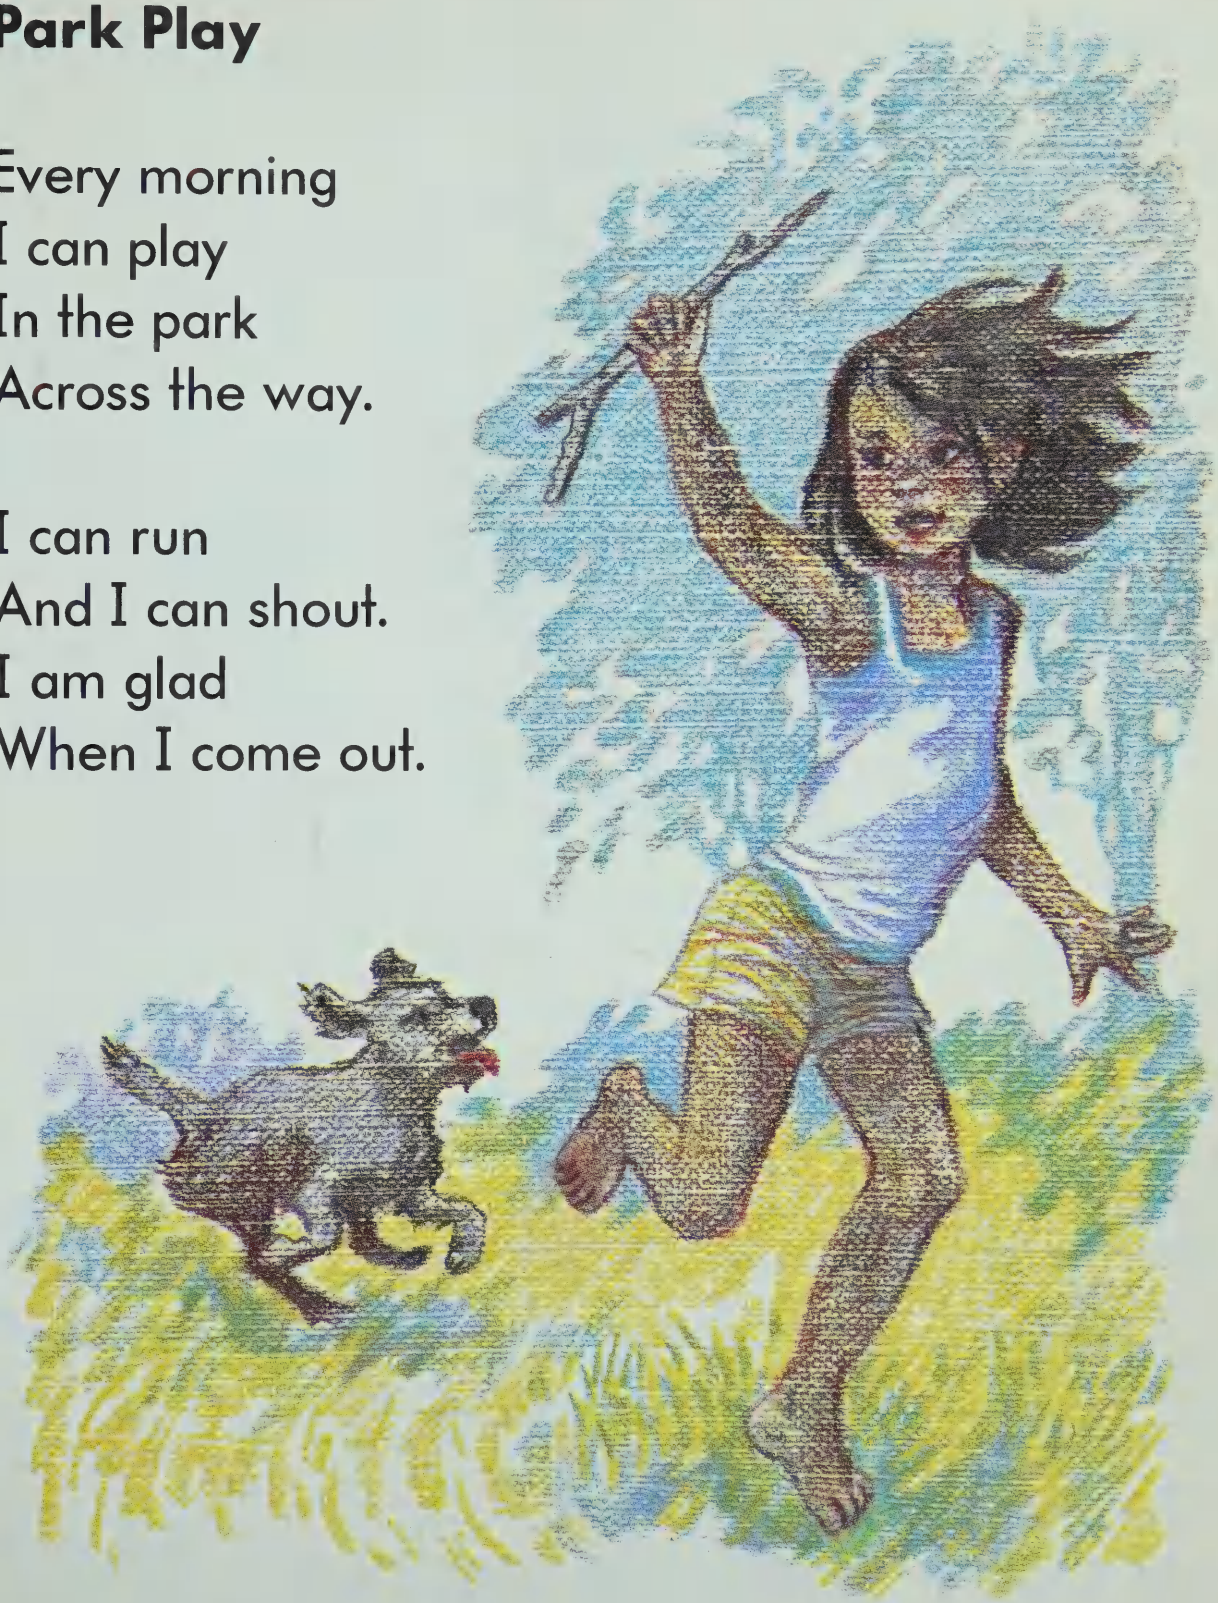
Into the pool!
Splash!

The children all said, "Do it again!"

Park Play

Every morning
I can play
In the park
Across the way.

I can run
And I can shout.
I am glad
When I come out.



Pete's Picnic

Pete said, "What can we do?"

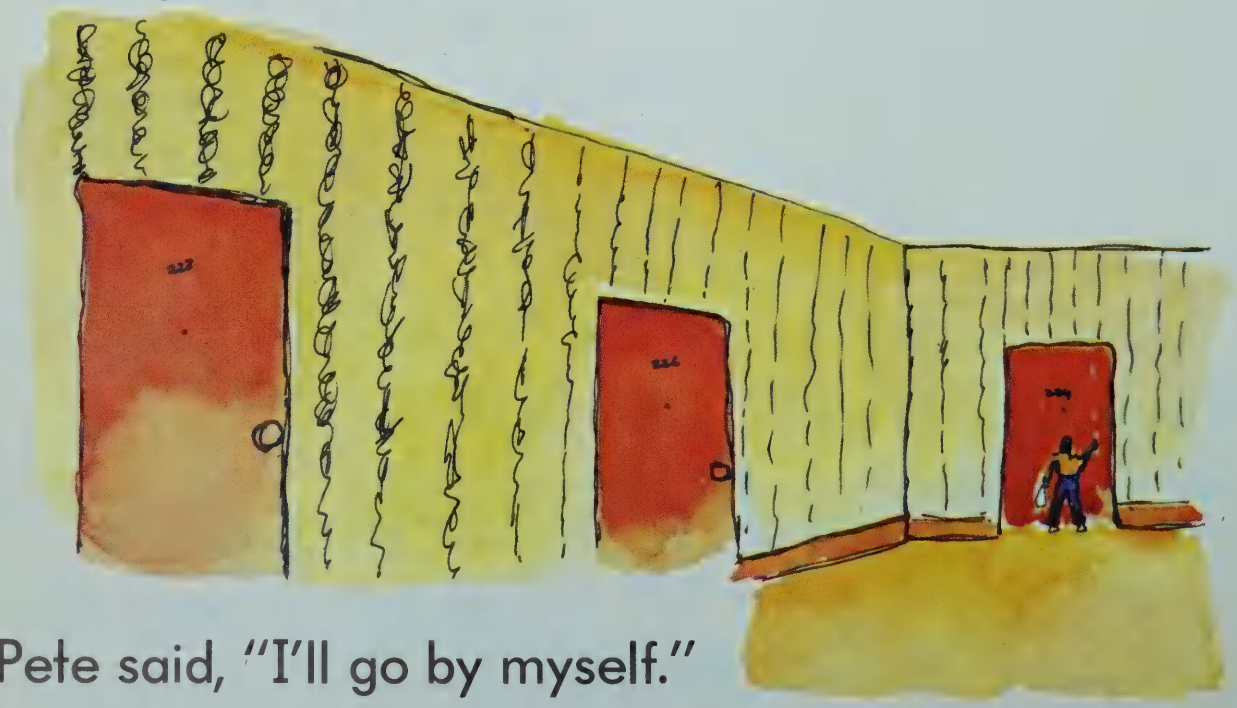
His mother said, "I have work to do.
You can have a picnic.
Ask Dean and Shirley to go with you."

Pete's mother said, "You can take some sandwiches and some cookies."

Pete said, "And milk and apples."

Pete went to Dean's place.
Nobody was home.

Pete went to Shirley's place.
Nobody was home.



Pete said, "I'll go by myself."

Pete found a good place for a picnic.
He took out the sandwiches and cookies.
He took out the milk and the apples.

A squirrel came along.
Pete gave it a sandwich.

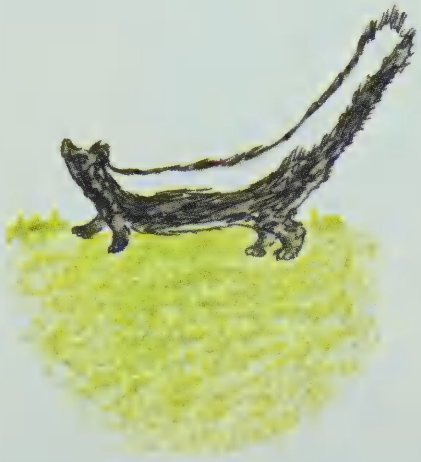
A rabbit came along.
Pete gave it an apple.

A chipmunk came along.
Pete gave it a cookie.

A kitten came along.
Pete gave it some milk.

A bird came along.
Pete gave it a cookie.

A mouse came along.
Pete gave it some bread.



Pete saw a skunk.
It didn't come to the picnic.

Then a puppy came.
And it ate everything!

Pete went home to his mother.

He said, "I had a good picnic.
I went all by myself.
But the animals came.
And that was fun."

What Are They Doing?

What are they doing?

They're washing the windows.

How do they get up there?

They ride up on that thing.

What are they doing?

They're fixing the light.

How do they get up there?

They ride up in that bucket.

What are they doing?

They're fixing the car.

Why is the car up there?

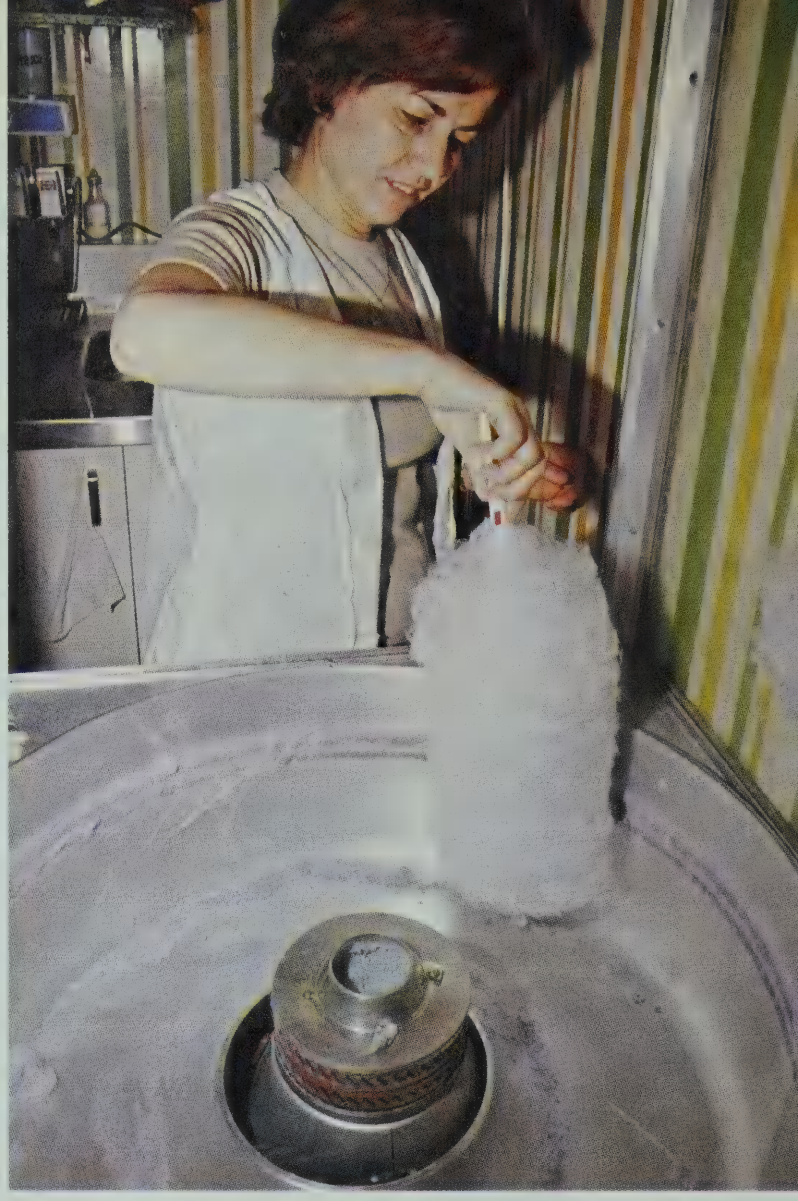
So they can get under it.

What are they doing?

They're making bread.

M-m-m! It smells good.

Can we get some?



What is she doing?

She's making candy.

Is it good?

I don't know.

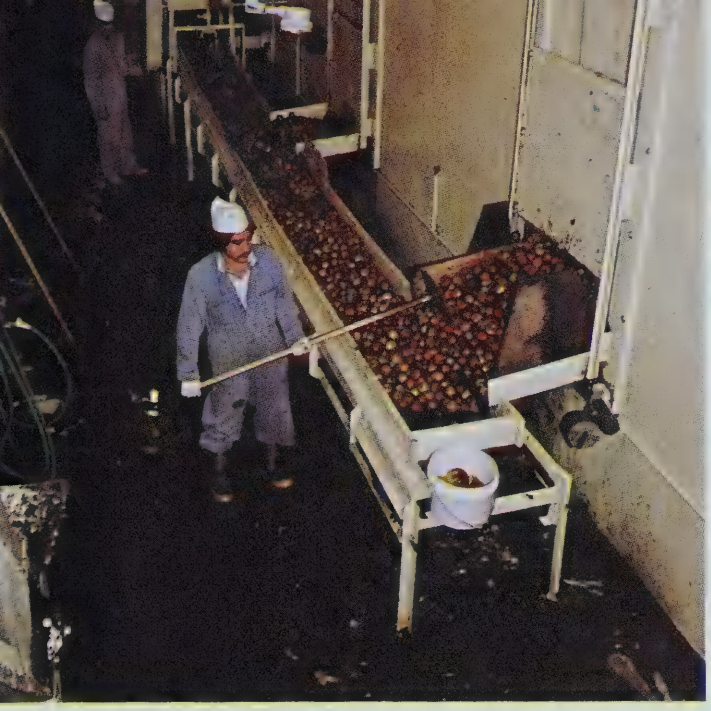
How Apple Juice Is Made

Apples grow on trees in orchards.

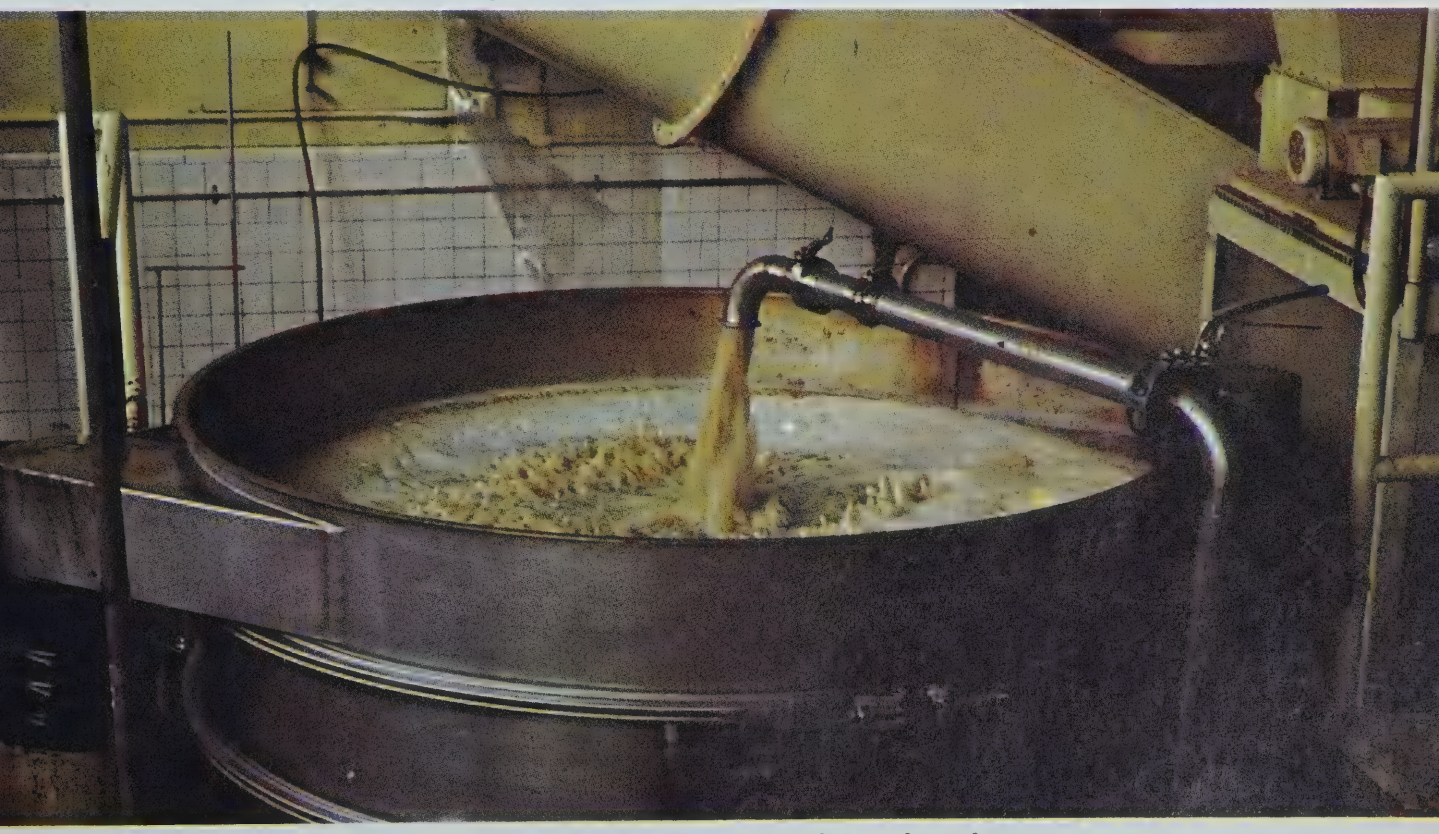
The apples get ripe on the trees.

The apples come to the factory in big, big trucks.



In the factory, the apples are washed many times.

This machine squeezes and crushes the apples.

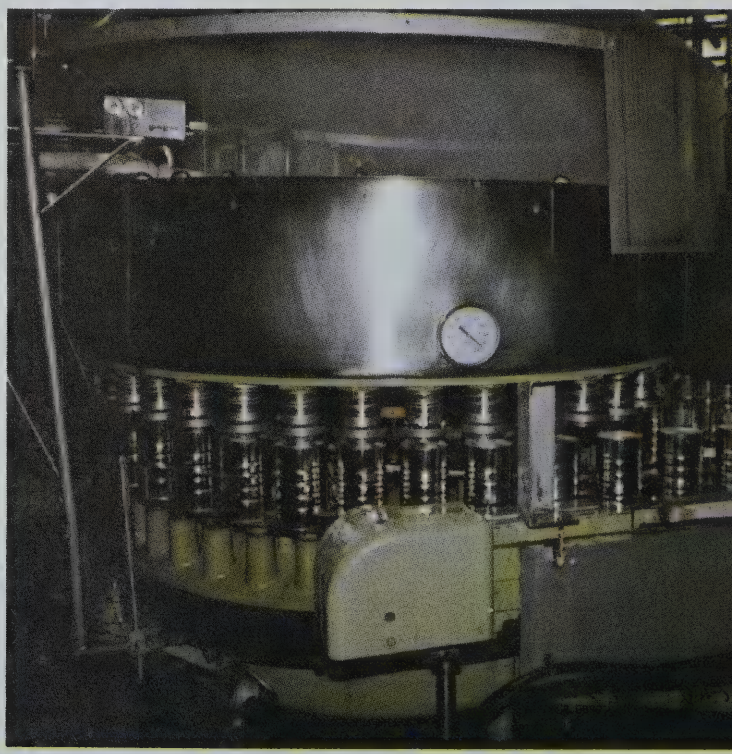


The apple juice runs out into a big tank.

At first the apple juice looks brown.

After the apple juice goes through other big tanks, it looks white.

This machine puts the apple juice into cans.



This machine puts lids on the cans.

Labels are put on the cans.

Then the cans are put in boxes and sent to the stores.

And then you can drink it!

Mandy's Cap

Mandy got a new cap.

She wore it all day.
She wore it all night.

Her dad said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

Her mom said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

Her brother said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

But Mandy said, "No!"

Mandy wore her cap when she went to see her grandma.

Her grandma said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

But Mandy said, "No!"

Mandy wore her cap when she went to school.

Her teacher said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

But Mandy said, "No!"

Mandy wore her cap when she went to paint.

The children said, "Oh Mandy, look what you did!
Take off your cap, Mandy!"

But Mandy said, "No!"

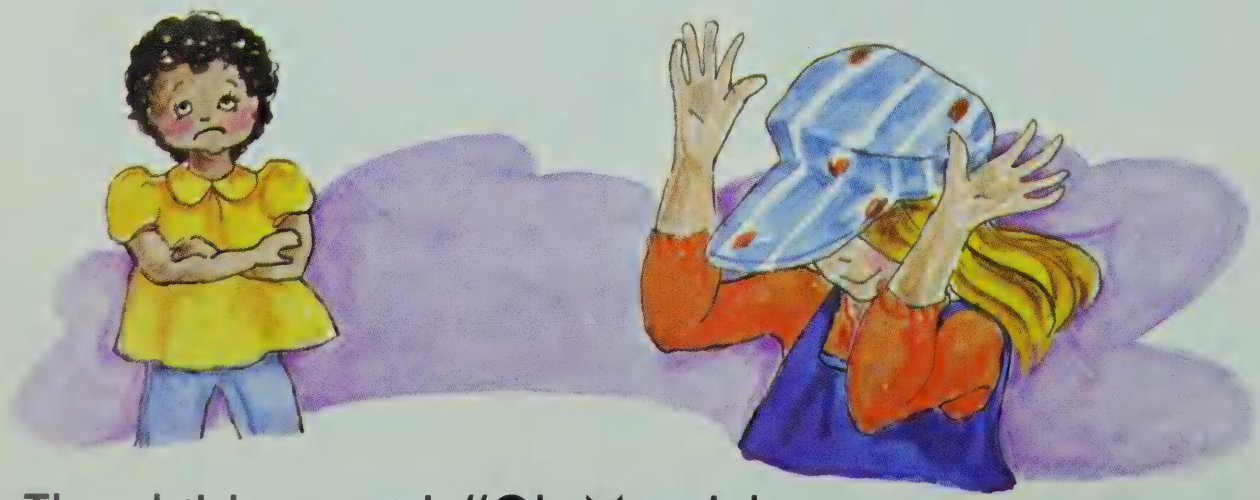
The children said, "Then you can't paint!"

Mandy wore her cap when they went to play.

The children said, "Take off your cap, Mandy."

But Mandy said, "No! I can play with it on."

Rosie said, "Catch the ball, Mandy!"



The children said, "Oh Mandy!
Why don't you take off your cap?
You can't play with it on!"

Mandy said, "No!
But I'll fix it so I can see."

Mandy wore her cap.

She wore it all day.
And she wore it all night.

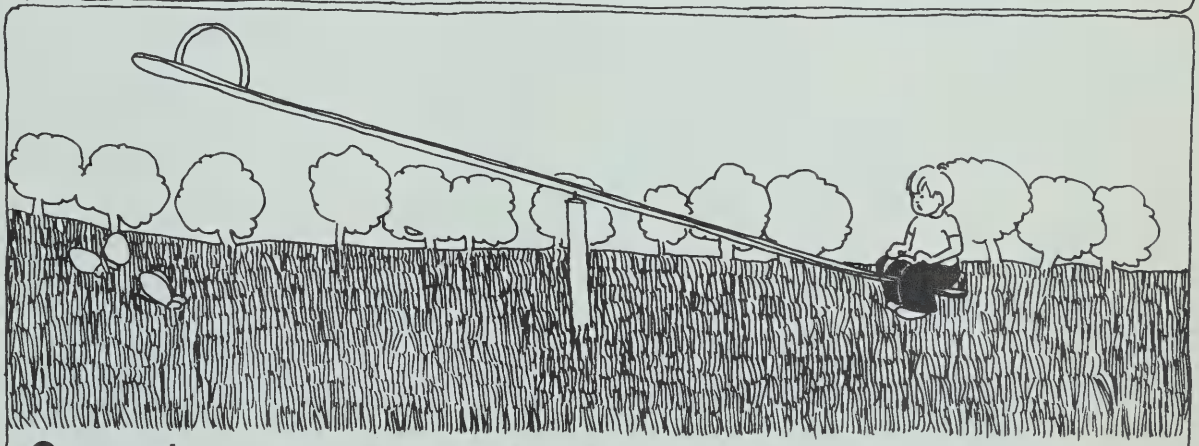
On the Playground

Sometimes we have to take turns.

Sometimes we have to walk around a game.

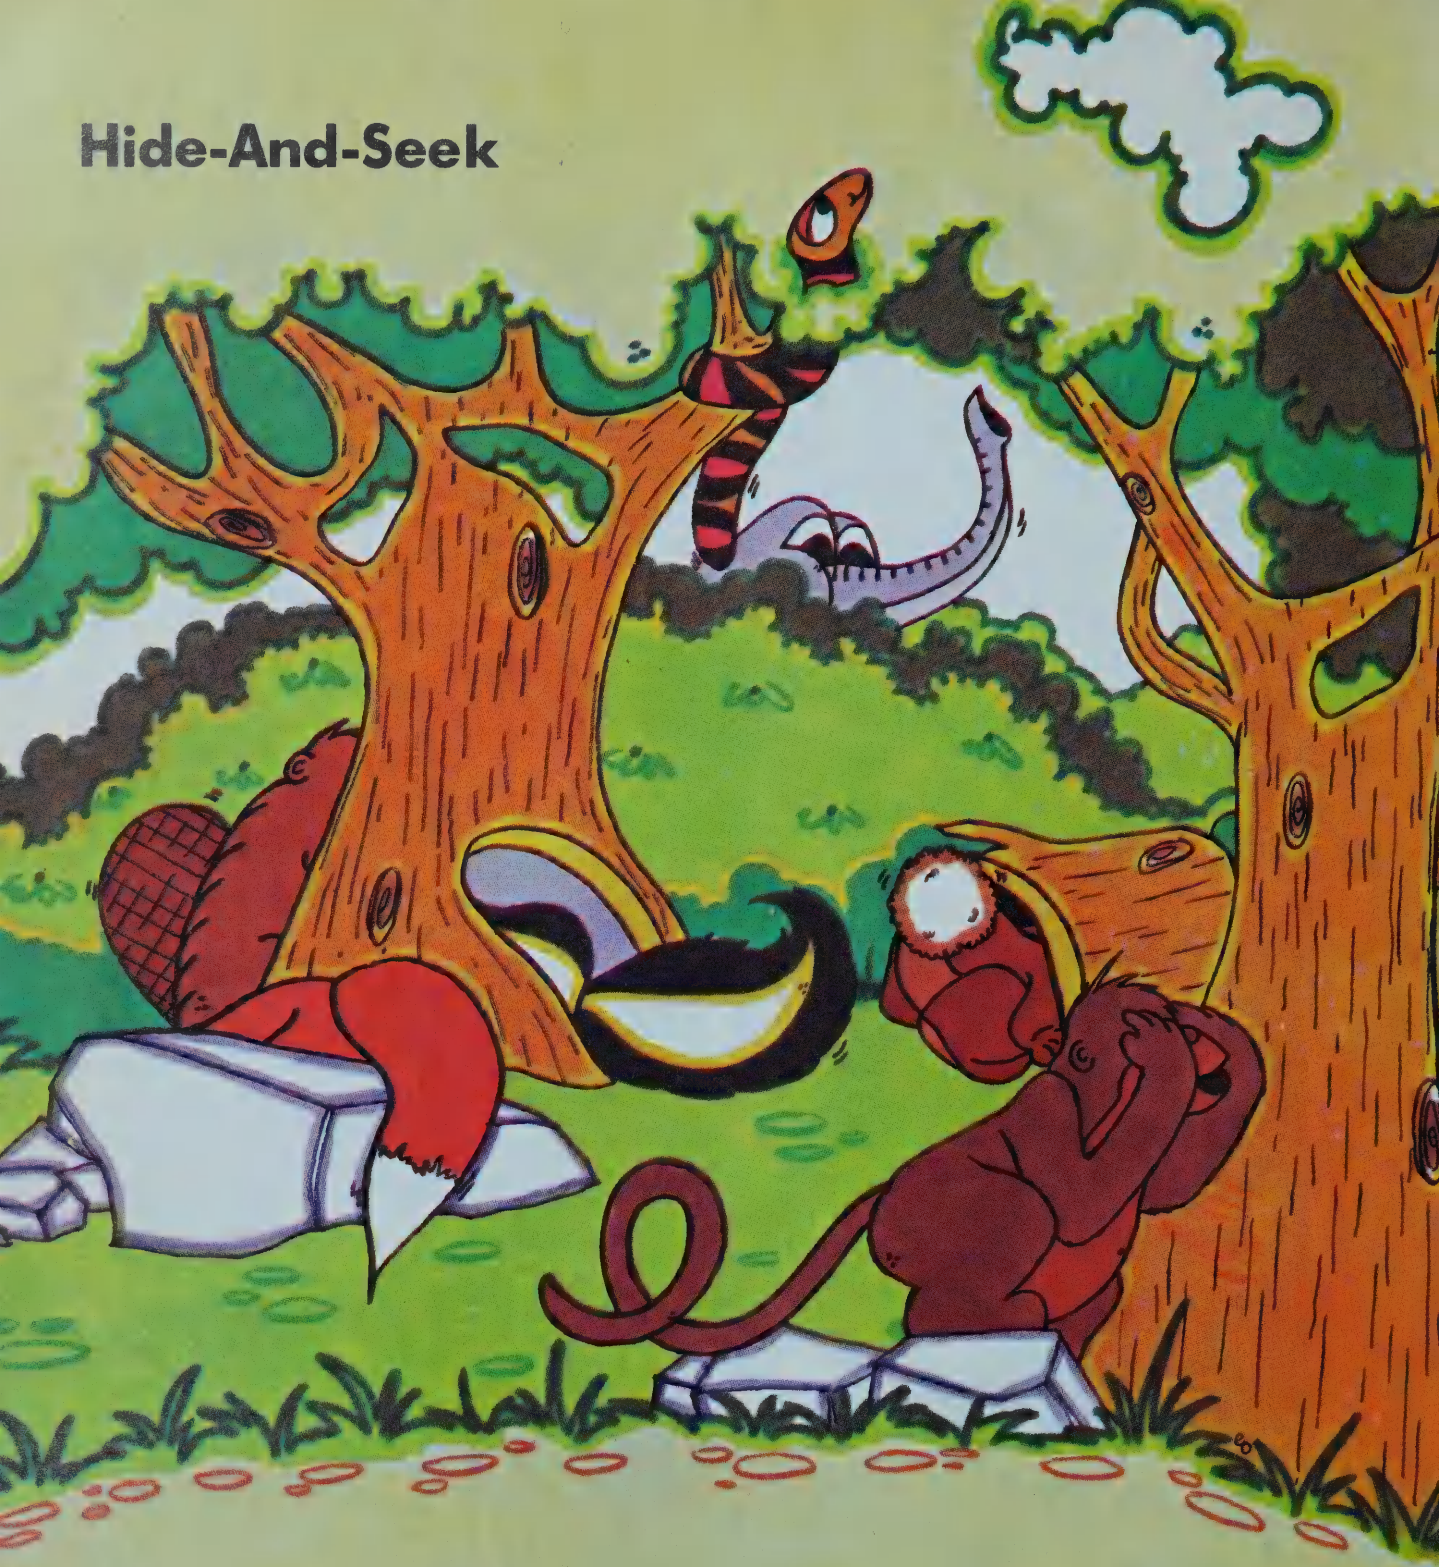
Sometimes we have to play in one place.



Sometimes we need somebody to play with.

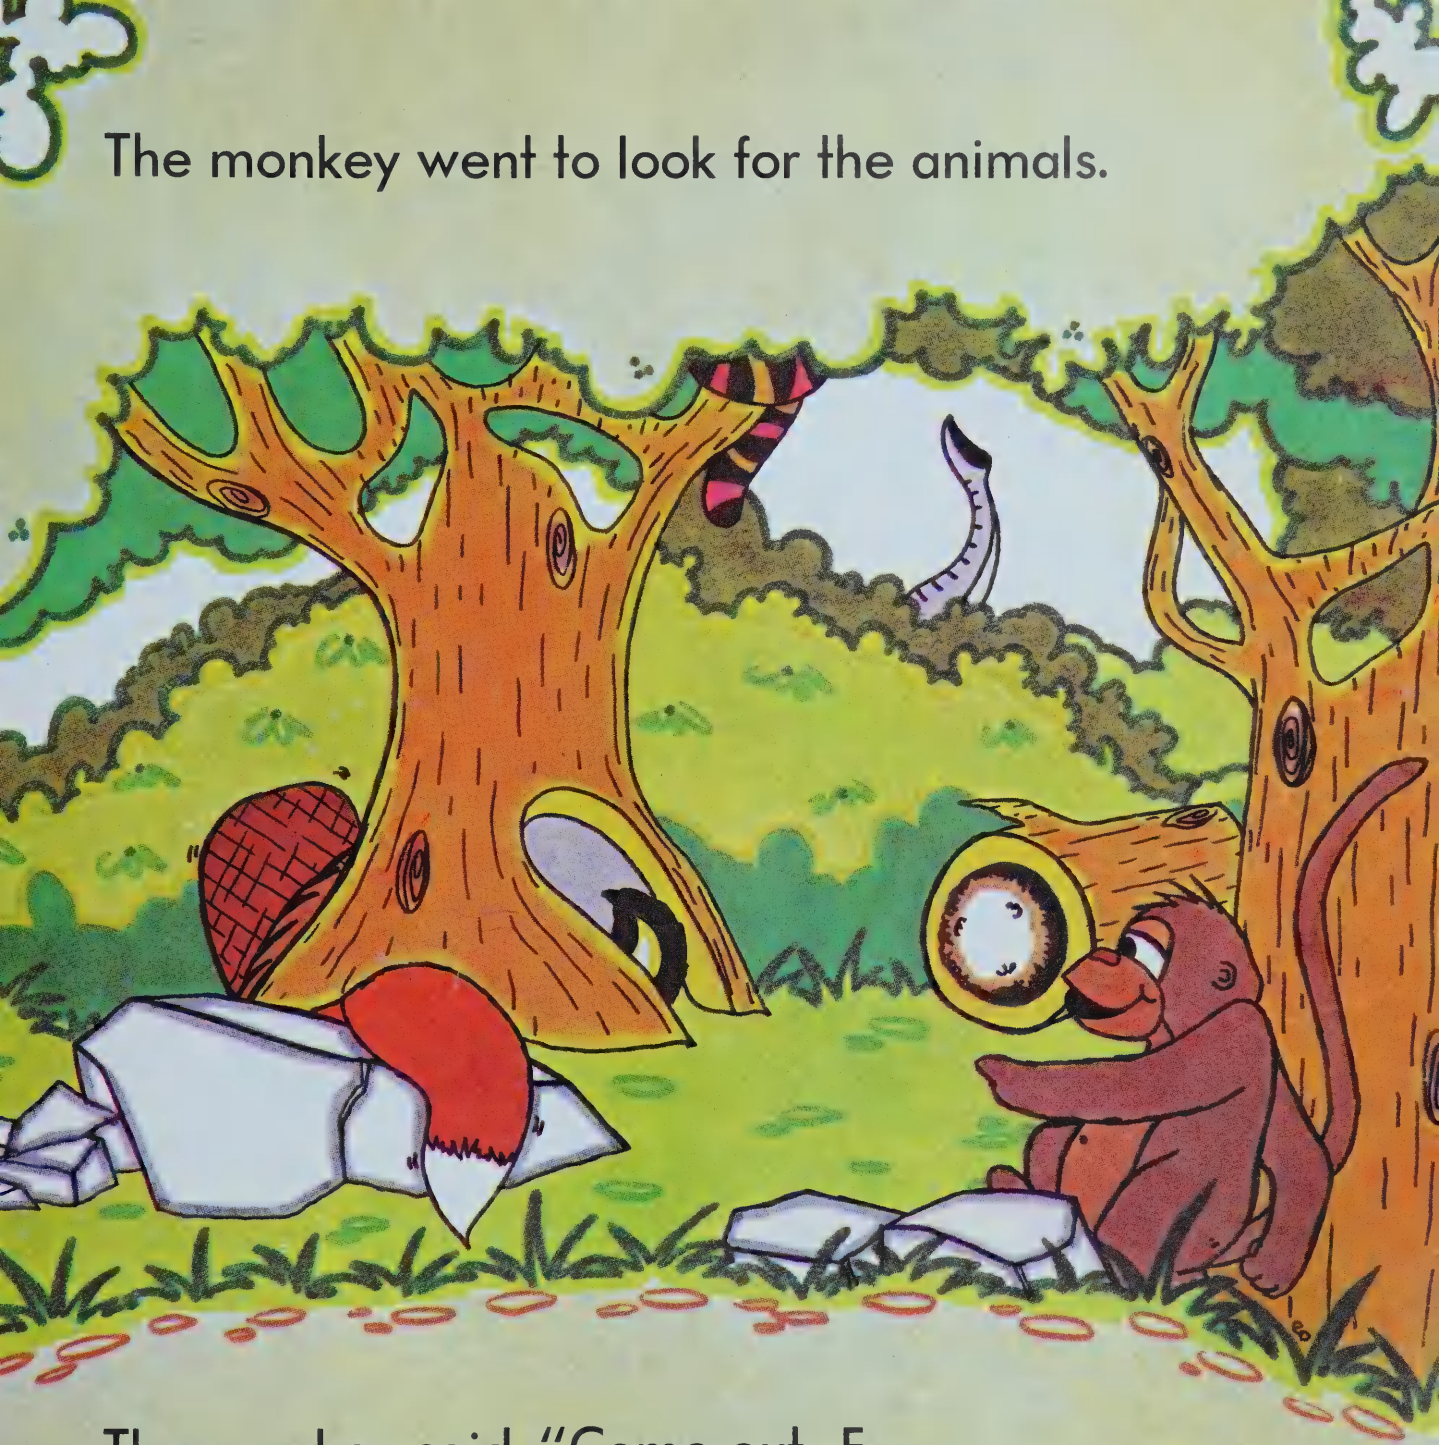
Sometimes we can play alone.

Hide-And-Seek



The animals were playing hide-and-seek.
The monkey was IT.

The monkey went to look for the animals.



The monkey said, "Come out, Fox.
I see your tail.

Beaver, come out.
I see your tail."

The monkey saw two more tails.

He said, "Come out, Snake.
I see your tail."

Then he said, "Come out, Skunk.
I see your tail."

The monkey said, "I see you, Elephant.
You didn't hide your tail."

The monkey said, "Come out, Elephant!
I found you."

The elephant said, "But you didn't see my tail!"

The monkey asked, "Where is Rabbit?
I can't find Rabbit."

Then Monkey saw a little white tail.

The monkey said, "Come out, Rabbit!
I see your little white tail!"

And all the animals said,
"You're IT, Rabbit! You're IT!"

The monkey said, "Look at them!
Rabbit will find them all.
But I know what to do.
Rabbit won't find me!"

And the monkey was right.
The rabbit found the other animals.
But not the monkey!

Dogs

The dogs I know
Have many shapes.
For some are big and tall,

And some are long And some are thin

And some are fat and small.

And some are little bits of fluff
And have no shape at all.

Who Took It?

Jan said, "Come and look at this."

Jan said, "My garden is growing.
Look at the green leaves."

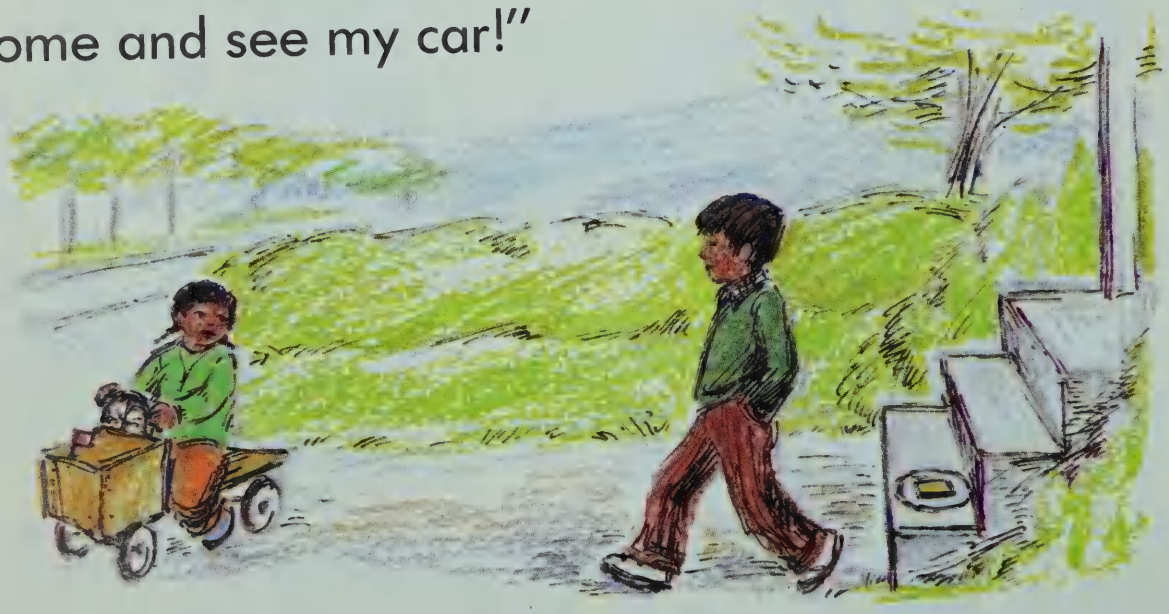
Father said, "What is it?"

Jan said, "Carrots!"

Father asked, "Where are the apples?
Where did they go?"

Sam asked, "Who took them?
I didn't see anybody."

Gina said, "Come here, Sam.
Come and see my car!"



Sam asked, "Where did you get it?"

Gina said, "I made it!
I found the tires and made it."

Sam asked, "Where's my sandwich?
Who took my sandwich?
I put it here."

Jan said, "I didn't take it."

Mary said, "I didn't take it."

Father said, "Nobody took it, Sam."

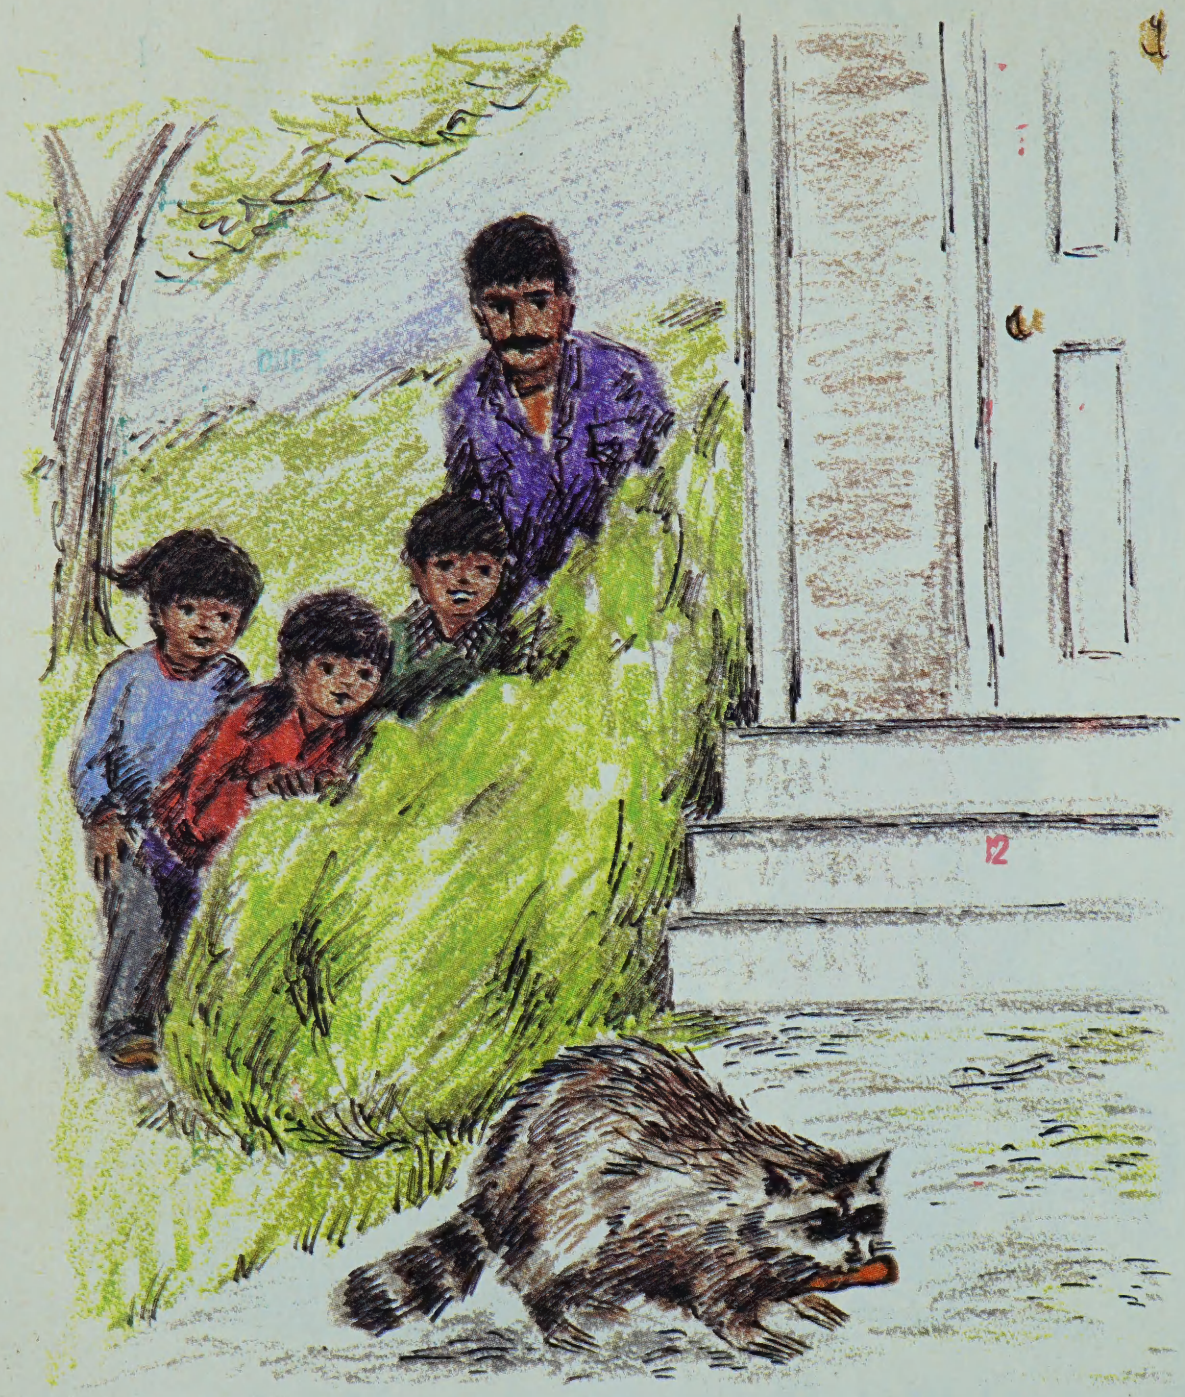
Sam said, "But it's gone!"

Mary had some carrots.

She went to ride her trike.

Mary said, "Where is my carrot?
I put two carrots here!
Where is the other one?
Who took it?"

Father said, "I don't know.
But the apples are gone,
and the sandwich is gone,
and now the carrot is gone."



Father said, "Now we know.
We know who took the apples and the sandwiches and the carrots."
